Initially, when I enrolled for INCEIF's eMIF programme, I was thinking in terms of career progression, and having the opportunity to acquire a Masters via online study is ideal, as I can focus on my studies without taking leave of absence. However, thanks to this course, my eyes are now open to so many more realities, aside from my own success.

I know the eMIF course will surely help me to advance in my professional life, but now I intend to devote more time to helping others, as the knowledge I'm gaining will enable me to be directly involved in benevolent social programmes.
